

Board of Chosen Freeholders

County of Hunterdon
71 Main Street, Building #1
PO Box 2900
Flemington, NJ 08822-2900

MEDIA RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

DATE: June 28, 2018

Contact: Suzanne Lagay, Deputy Director,
Board of Chosen Freeholders
slagay@co.hunterdon.nj.us

Senior Artists Make Hunterdon Proud Display Moves to Rt. 12 Library July 2nd

For 44 years The Hunterdon County Division of Senior Services has sponsored a springtime Senior Art Show and 2018 was no different. Well, yes it was—the art, once again, was better than ever before.

The show, which has been on display since early May, will move from Gauntt Place to the Rt.12 County Library from July 2nd to the 30th. Call or stop in for a viewing schedule at the Library, admission is free.

The art on display is oil, acrylic, water color, mixed media, photography and sculpture. “I’m surprised each year at the superb talent exhibited, though I shouldn’t be,” remarked Freeholder Suzanne Lagay, who participates annually in the awards ceremony. “The vast array of subject matter, talent excellence and artistic interpretation is a joy to see.”

The show is expertly coordinated by Senior Services employee, Pia Ray-Doklan under the direction of Division Head, Laine Nauman and Department Director, Christine Hammerstone.

First place artwork, so-judged by an external panel of Hunterdon artists, will be entered and shown at the NJ State Art Show in September. A bus will escort winners and interested seniors to the State show. “We all have our fingers crossed,” Lagay added.

See all of the winning artwork on the Division of Senior Services website at:
<http://www.co.hunterdon.nj.us/aging/2018artshow/2018artshow.pdf>